Environmental Policy

Issue 6, August 2016

Promat UK is committed to the effective management of environmental impacts associated with the manufacture and supply of products, materials and systems for protection against fire and high temperature with a view to continually improving the company's environmental performance and preventing pollution through its activities.

Environmental objectives are documented; these objectives are monitored regularly to assess progress on environmental performance, reviewed by Senior Management and all reasonably practicable steps are taken to achieve them. Compliance is confirmed as a result of formal internal audits and at management review, which is conducted at least once per year.

Promat UK is committed to comply with all applicable legal and other requirements which relate to their environmental aspects and impacts and shall develop and review plans for compliance when changes in legislation occur.

Promat UK will manage its operational activities in line with best practise to control the impact on the environment.

Environmental requirements and awareness is communicated through training and information to all persons working for or on behalf of the company when required.

The company's Management System conforms to ISO 14001 and it is mandatory that the controls and procedures as documented in the Policy Manual Procedures and any other supporting data are adhered to at all times.

The policy is publicly available to all interested parties and is reviewed periodically to take account local environmental aspects and applicable statutory requirements.
